New Beginnings

Dear Families,

Welcome to our 2011-2012 school year. We are so excited to start out this school year in our new facility! So many people came together to make this building happen and we could not be more happy with our beautiful school! We have over 85 children attending between our main building and school-age center but we have room for a few more.

I look forward to getting to know you and your family more and I hope to see you at some of our family events this school year.
